

The care you need in the comfort of home

When recovering from an injury or illness, you may need a little help. But you want assistance without having to rely on your loved ones too much. You want quality and compassionate care from experienced professionals. Most of all, you want to remain in your home—in comfortable surroundings, near your family and friends—not in a hospital. Is there someone you can depend on for help at a time like this?

Yes, there is—the staff of MJGC Home Care.

What is MJGC Home Care?

MJGC Home Care provides services, such as nursing care and rehabilitation, that are a continuation of your hospital care—delivered in the familiar surroundings of your own home. These services may include heart and blood pressure monitoring, wound care, IV feedings, medication administration, as well as help with speech and simple movements. We also provide care for conditions such as heart disease, arthritis and hypertension. The care you receive with MJGC Home Care is personalized and can be modified as often as your needs or conditions change.

Caring for you and your traditions

Sensitivity to cultural differences and religious beliefs is very important when care is delivered in your home. You need to trust that your caregivers will be understanding and respectful. Rest assured that our team is specially trained to adapt care to meet the needs of families from all ethnic groups. You can even request aides who speak your language.

The solution for your situation

MJGC Home Care is a valuable tool for both patients and families in many different medical situations, such as:

- ▶ Patients going home from the hospital who still need short-term medical help
- ▶ Patients who can avoid hospital stays with supportive home care
- ▶ Patients who need their medical conditions checked often
- ▶ Patients and families who need help learning how to cope with a recently diagnosed medical condition

MJGC Home Care allows you to stay in a comfortable, familiar place near family and friends, and is less stressful than a hospital or skilled nursing facility. Our services reduce the need to travel to and from a facility for care.

MJGC Home Care is proud to exclusively serve Brooklyn.
